Here are today's primary developments and take-aways on the GC fuel disruption—

- Conditions along GC continue to deteriorate with most petroleum infrastructure between Houston and Lake Charles, LA out of service
- Colonial Pipeline suspended service on Line 2 (primarily diesel and aviation fuel) this evening
- Colonial Pipeline scheduled to suspend service on Line 1 (gasoline) on Thursday

- Expect significant petroleum disruptions to impact NC within the next few days
- May see petroleum disruption first development with independent retailers (spot market) in the western NC
- NC Petroleum Council likely to request State of Emergency declaration for statewide petroleum disruption, weight/hours of service waiver, and trailer tank vapor pressure regulation waiver from Governor's Office on Thursday or soon there after
- Conference call with Petroleum Council, State Energy Office, Purchase and Contract (DOA), DHS-PSA, Air Quality, Agriculture/Consumer Svcs., and NCEM to update supply/disruption conditions on Thursday and Friday at 11AM (scheduled daily for updates)

Call me if you have questions or need additional information.

Thanks,

Steve
